

Veggie Box Competition

Does your organization promote healthy eating and active living in San Luis Obispo County?
Would your organization like to win $1,000 to help carry out your work?

During the HEAL SLO summit on October 7 at Mountainbrook Church, up to 12 organizations will be able to reserve a spot to share the work they do with the attendees. Each participating organization will have three minutes to share their story. The three minutes will be strictly enforced so organizations will need to practice to make sure they can get their message across in that time. Each competing organization will be provided with a video clip of their presentation that can be posted on their web page or social media pages.

Organizations may use storytelling, humor, music, dance, drama, and/or audience participation during their presentation. Be creative – entertain and teach! The audience will choose the most deserving organization, based on the following criteria:

- The organization demonstrated that their focus is on healthy eating and active living
- The organization used a creative approach to tell their story

A maximum of 12 organizations will be able to compete. Applications will be accepted on a first come basis. Organizations must submit their application, along with a $25 check payable to:

County of San Luis Obispo, Public Health Department
Attn: Health Promotion
2180 Johnson Ave. Annex
